Citation to patent literature will be in the form (Inventor # : LL) where # is the column number and LL is the line number. Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

With respect to Claim 4, how can the bed be both fixed and suspended (i.e. fluidized)?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The entire reference teaches each and every limitation of the rejected claims. The pinpoint citations provided are in no way to be construed as limitations of the teachings of the reference, but rather illustrative of particular instances where the teachings may be found.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 6,413,487 to Resasco, et al.

With respect to Claims 1-9, 16 and 18-20 Resasco generally teaches a method for making carbon nanotubes in a fluidized bed. See (Resasco 3: 20 et seq). Note the following teachings: various inlet/outlet ports at various locations in the reactor, including outlets below the reactor (Resasco "Figs 2-3," 9: 1 et seq), carbonaceous gas (Resasco 8: 10-22), and catalyst (Resasco 7: 12-67). As to Claims 10-11, 15 and 17, the temperatures are taught. (Resasco 7: 1-5). As to Claims 12-14, the pressure is taught. (Resasco 8: 63).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

The references cited teach each and every limitation of the rejected claims. The pinpoint citations provided are in no way to be construed as limitations of the teachings of the reference, but rather illustrative of particular instances where the teachings may be found.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 6,413,487 to Resasco, et al.

The discussion of Resasco accompanying the anticipation rejection supra is expressly incorporated herein by reference. No difference is seen between the instant claims and Resasco, but to the extent there are differences they are readily optimizable. Note Resasco explicitly recites variations and modifications - ordinary process equipment - well within the grasp of the skilled artisan. See (Resasco 11: 60 et seq.).

Conclusion

All amendments made in response to this Office Action must be accompanied by a pinpoint citation to the Specification (i.e. page and paragraph or line number) to indicate where Applicants are drawing their support.
